ABOUT ME

I am a highly conscientious tech enthusiast, I have good interpersonal skills and work well as part of a team. I am a quick learner, adapt fast to new circumstances and take my responsibilities seriously. I am currently in the process of learning Web Development on my own and I plan to transition from QA Software Engineer to entry-level Frontend Developer job.

SELF-INTERVIEW

What is your super power?

The ability to focus when the deadline stress is above high.

What is the most rewarding project you have worked on?

The hardest project that I worked on was Altex Mobile App, that's why it's the most rewarding one.

How do you continue to educate yourself?

I have a daily learning routine for Web development courses. Hope to get a Frontend Developer job soon.
